Hey Tracy,

Can you please fill me in on what you know about this issue?

I would like you to tell Joe Peppe to stop harassing me. I could hear him complaining all yesterday morning to you that I was not in yet but there I sat just feet away from him. I could hear him say to you I was signed in at 7:30 but my door was still locked at 8:00, but I actually had signed in at 7:15 as I was in at 7:13, I do have splits and orders to prepare for and have to order in house on my other pc. Today he took the time to come into my room to ask me to sign last week's timesheet and just itching to start and he finally did. Complaining I wasn't in again and starting an argument and threatening to get me. I had signed in at 7:30 and he says I was not here nor signed in. This has happened in the past and he obviously on a mission to harass me or get back at me for past harassment complaints against him.

Thanks,
Russ
